ROBOTWIN

3 steps & 1 minute to automation: demonstrate – click – robotize.

RoboTwin is a startup that is developing a robot learning tool called RoboTeach. RoboTeach allows anyone to teach robots without having to know how to program. This is especially useful for small and medium-sized manufacturers who need to automate their production but don't have the resources to hire a robot programmer.

Unique selling points:

- Reduces programming time
- No CAD model required
- Increases line uptime
- Teach robots in-house
- Robotics from units of pieces
