HEALTHTECH INTELLIGENCE

HealthTech Intelligence

Using proprietary hardware, software and AI, we empower everyday users to make medically informed decisions.

HealthTech Intelligence (HTI) is a company focused on the application and development of artificial intelligence in MedTech with the goal of making healthcare technology accessible to the general public. Their goal is to provide medical diagnostic services, including software and hardware development, AI analytics, data sharing and consulting. HTI aims to support the healthcare system by offering a device that can help individuals make informed decisions from home without replacing professional healthcare.

Unique selling points:

- Artificial intelligence in the service of medicine in the hands of everyday users.
- Medically informed decisions by lay people.
- Don’t be intimidated in the waiting room, make wise decisions.
